Sworn Circulation of the Los Angeles Times.

For purposes of comparison the sworn statement below gives the circulation of THE TIMES on the 6th day of August, 1890—the day of the strike by compositors in this office—followed by the circulation figures at various periods since that date, showing the increase:

COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES: ss.

Personally appeared before me, H. G. Otis, president and general manager of THE TIMES-MIRROR COMPANY, and George W. Crawford, foreman of the pressroom, in the Los Angeles Times Building, both due witnesses, and say that the circulation of the LOS ANGELES TIMES on the 6th day of August, 1890, was 6,750 copies; that the daily average circulation for said month was 6,713 copies; and that the daily average circulation for the months given below was as follows:

For January, 1891..... $3,399 copies
For February, 1891..... $19 " " " " "

For March, 1891..... $443 " " " " "

For April, 1891..... $456 " " " " " and further, that said circulation was bona fide in the strictest sense.

THE APRIL EXHIBIT IN DETAIL.

Advertisers Who Hire Newspaper Space Have the Right to Know the Circulation!

The circulation exhibit in detail for April is as follows:

FOR THE WEEK ENDED APRIL 1..... 58,693
FOR THE WEEK ENDED APRIL 8..... 59,080
FOR THE WEEK ENDED APRIL 15..... 57,980
FOR THE WEEK ENDED APRIL 22..... 62,905
FOR THE 2D DAY ENDED APRIL 30..... 16,000

Total..... 253,705

Average per day for the 30 days, 8456.

A comparison of figures shows a net increase over the average circulation for August, 1890, of 1,743 copies.

The strike long since proved itself an utter failure, and the result is mainly an impotent device of a very few selfish and irresponsible individuals. The Times defies it and them and continues to employ organized labor, paying thereto more in wages annually than any rival establishment. Advertisers are counseled to no longer pay attention to lawless enemies of their best interests.

We stand ready to exhibit to advertisers our circulation books and press-room reports at any time, as a verification of the claims above. Our charges are fixed at the only true basis, namely, the CIRCULATION OF THE TIMES which is guaranteed to be double that of any local competitive journal.

THE COURTS.

An Important Suit Decided in Favor of the City.

LAW OF STREET DEDICATION

Amos Abbott on Trial for Perjury—Conviction Charged in the Nordin Case—Court Notes—New Suits.

In Department Four yesterday morning Judge Van Dyke ordered findings for the defendant in the case of the Los Angeles Cemetery Association against the city of Los Angeles, a suit to quiet title to a certain strip of land on the westerly side of the Evergreen Cemetery, in accordance with the following opinion:

The law as applied to the question involved is not disputed by counsel, to wit:

"The vital principle of the dedication is the intention to dedicate, and whenever this is unequivocally manifested, the dedication, so far as the owner of the soil is concerned, has been made."

"Time, therefore, though often a material ingredient in the evidence, is not an indispensable ingredient in the act of dedication. If accepted and used by the public in the manner intended its acts do mean an intention to dedicate the strip in question for public street purposes."

Soon after acquiring its land, the plaintiff made and filed a map, on which were delineated the usual avenues and plots of cemetery grounds. Along the southern and western sides were laid out blocks of streets, so that on the southerly side is now forming part of First street. Following the inner or easterly line of the forty feet westerly strip—being the land in controversy—trees were planted to form a hedge, and in front of the hedge was a gate, which had stood near to, or on, the westerly or outer line. In the meantime the lands to the west had been laid out into blocks and lots, with spaces between the blocks for streets. One of these spaces ran from first street to Brooklyn avenue, along the easterly line of the strip in controversy, twenty feet wide, which, together with said strip, forms a street sixty feet wide called Cemetery avenue. Parallel with First street and Brooklyn avenue, a roadway was laid out, which is a public known and used as Michigan avenue. This latter terminates on Cemetery avenue opposite the carriage entrance to the cemetery grounds, and is used as a public way. Lots front on Cemetery avenue on the westerly side, many of which have been sold, and the rest are held in reserve. Since the plaintiff moved its fence back the strip called Cemetery avenue has been used by the public as a street and has been traveled more than most of the like cross streets in that direction. To how close it would be to cut off the occupant of lots in question from a street, or limit them to a twenty-foot alley, and there would be no public road to the cemetery gate.

I think the only fair and reasonable inference to be drawn from the acts of the plaintiff under the circumstances is that it intended the strip of land in question should become, as it has by use become, a public street, and that dedication is therefore complete. Findings and judgment are therefore ordered for defendant.

VAN DYKE, J.

CHARGED WITH PERJURY.

The trial of the case against Aaron Abbott, charged with having committed perjury in testifying falsely in the court below before Justice Austin, Justice Shaw upon the charge of vagrancy, on March 9, was commenced before Judge Smith and a jury in Department One of the Superior Court yesterday morning.

"The information on file against Abbott shows that he defrauded the court of the date above mentioned that he had only visited the house of a prostitute, named Lottie Miller on two occasions, and that in each instance he had gone there in the capacity of a paper-hanger, whereas in truth he was a common vagrant.

Assistant District Attorney C. C. McCoates appeared for the prosecution, while the defendant was represented by U. C. Stephens, Esq.

After the jury had been secured the prosecution, in its first witness, Frank Fanning, Chief Deputy in the County Clerk's office, who produced the records of the county to show that one H. C. Austin had been duly elected and was qualified to act as a justice of the peace in and for this city.

Then Justice Austin himself was called and testified as to the trial of the defendant, Aaron Abbott, before him on March 9th, last, and to what the defendant then said in his own behalf while under oath.

Joseph S. Edwards, clerk of the police court, was called and testified that he was present in the Abbott case as that which had been filed with him, and upon which a warrant had been issued for the defendant's arrest upon a charge of vagrancy.

Officer S. Bell testified to having arrested Aaron Abbott as a vagrant. He stated that he had kept track of the defendant for several days prior to his arrest. The defendant had visited the room occupied by the woman, Lottie Miller, daily for some time. He then detailed the occasions on which he was seen Abbott there, and the circumstances surrounding defendant's arrest as a vagrant.

This testimony was corroborated by that of Officer J. D. Todd, and at the close of the examination of the latter, the court adjourned for the day, a recess being ordered until 10 o'clock this morning, when the case will be resumed.

ANOTHER CASE OF HARM SWARING.

At the close of the argument in the case of J. H. Nordholt, against J. Pourfourt, et al., as follows:

"W. F. Nordholt, deceased, yesterday afternoon, Judge Shaw ordered findings for the defendant, and from the bench, in commenting upon the testimony, criticised that of Mrs. Gregorio Reys de Nordholt pretty severely. The Court said, among other things, that she was in collusion with her son, who had sworn so facts diametrically opposite to those she testified in a former case.

PLEADED GUILTY.

C. Kent appeared with his counsel, Messrs. H. J. and W. Crawford, before Judge Smith in Department One yesterday morning for arraignment upon the charge of having assaulted Officer Valencia with intent to commit murder a few weeks ago. At the solicitation of his counsel, and the District Attorney, the motion was denied. The defendant had been in collision with his wife, who had sworn so facts diametrically opposite to those he testified to in a former case.

NIGHTINGALE'S SUIT.

The application of Newell H. Nightingale for the appointment of a receiver to take charge of the affairs of the Milwaukee Furniture Company pending his suit against that corporation came up for hearing before Judge Ross in the United States Circuit Court yesterday afternoon. The matter was argued by Messrs. H. C. Call and A. W. Hutton, the plaintiff and defendant respectively, and on being finally submitted, was by the Court taken under advisement.

Court Notes.

Wong Ark, who is charged with the murder of his wife, appeared before Judge Shaw in Department Six yesterday morning, with his counsel, Jesse Hardisty, Esq., and moved for a continuance to advise the information he against him. The motion was denied, however, and the defendant thereupon entered his plea of not guilty, and was ordered to appear for trial on June 4 next.

Louis Higgins also made a motion to set aside the indictment, charging him with grand larceny, but it was denied. He then entered his plea of not guilty, and his case was set for trial on June 4 next.

In the same court George Olphert appeared without counsel and entered his plea of guilty to the charge of having assumed a switch named Senton on the 2d ult., with a deadly weapon; whereupon he also was ordered to appear for sentence on Wednesday morning.

In the United States District Court yesterday morning Judge Ross overruled the Tapis, charged with having cut timber upon Government lands in the Los Angeles district, and ordered that the defendant appear for arraignment and plea on June 4 next.

Max Roth appeared in the same court to enter his plea of guilty to the charge of having masterminded the mail robbery. His counsel, however, interposed a demurrer to the indictment, but this was promptly overruled by the Court. Roth thereupon entered his plea of guilty, and, at the request of his counsel, the case was continued for the term.

In Department One yesterday morning J. DePierre, the Frenchman charged with assaulting Mrs. Eichau on Boyle Heights recently with intent to commit rape, appeared before Judge Shaw, who remanded him.

In Department Two yesterday afternoon the trial of the contest over the will of the late Miguel Leonis was resumed before Judge Clark and a jury of nine, and occupied their attention until to the hour of adjournment. No defense was made to the opposition in the Nestle Pyror claim, but the girl's case is apparently a strong one. The case will be resumed this morning.

In Department Three yesterday morning Judge Wade granted decrees as prayed for by plaintiffs, L. Strohm, et al., to quiet title to certain land, which the defendant is allowed to go by default.

In Department Four yesterday morning Judge Van Dyke decided the following three cases, which were brought before him for some time past: J. F. Coster vs. J. C. Koford et al., findings and judgment ordered for plaintiff; N. W. Stowell vs. W. Hunter, findings ordered for defendant, and Los Angeles Cemetery Association vs. Los Angeles City, finding ordered for defendant.

Opposition to the trial of the case of Barclay and Williams, et al., to quiet title to certain land, which the defendant is allowed to go by default.

In Department Five yesterday Judge McKinley overruled the demurrer in the case of Jacob vs. Abbott, et al., a suit to dissolve a partnership and enjoining the Sheriff from selling community property under an injunction. The court ordered judgment for plaintiff as prayed for.

The defendant in the case of O. W. Churchill against G. W. Sells, a suit to foreclose a mortgage for $17,760, having allowed the matter to go by default, Judge Shaw granted a decree as prayed for.

The defendant in the case of O. W. Churchill against G. W. Sells, a suit to foreclose a mortgage for $17,760, having allowed the matter to go by default, Judge Shaw granted a decree as prayed for.

Samuel and Edward Gamble, a father and son, both natives of England, were yesterday admitted to citizenship of the United States by Judge McKinley upon providing proof of residence here, and taking the requisite oaths of renunciation and allegiance.

Mrs. Selma Arnhem was yesterday granted a divorce from her husband, A. Arnhem, by Judge McKinley on the ground of desertion. The defendant allowed the case to go by default, and was represented by his attorney, Frederick Baker, Esq., being appointed as counsel for the defendant in the mean time.

Accompanying Maj. Truman's letter is the following statement:

"The boy detective, the boy in charge of the parcel-post, the evening of the disappearance, said last night that he could not have been mistaken about Hanchette's having appeared in person at the parcel-station. 'I might not have noticed him,' particularly as he was a lady and gentleman called and asked me about his baggage and described him as a lady and gentleman calling and asked me about his baggage and described him as a heavy-looking man, but I was surprised when I saw him again this afternoon. I was on the lookout for him, and when he appeared and asked for his things I knew him at once and told him about his friends being there before him."

"He was a tall, slim man with a pale face and big black whiskers. He wore a light overcoat and black pants. His hat was a leather cap with a heavy lining, which had checked with me."

NOTES OF THE DAY.

ECONOMY is the order of the day. Even the Pope has to cut down expenses.

THE CITY has a chance to obtain a new park, Mr. Workman having offered five acres in Boyle Heights for that purpose.

THE SAN DIEGO Chamber of Commerce has joined the procession and endorsed J. de Barth Shorb for head of the department of horticulture.

A desirable reform has been introduced in New York in relation to employment offices. Gov. Hill has signed the bill requiring keepers of intelligence offices in New York to return fees to applicants when positions are not secured, and to employers when servants do not remain longer than a month.

MAYOR HAZARD thinks the salaries of street commissioners are too high, and gives reasons for his opinion in a message to the Council, which is printed in another column. Anything that stands in the way of street improvements is a drawback to the progress of the city. Mr. Hazard's communication deserves the careful attention of the Council.

SUNDAY was the birthday of Queen Victoria, although the official celebration of the day was deferred until yesterday. Victoria began on Sunday her 73d year, and next month will commence the fifty-fifth of her reign. Taken all in all, and considering the temptations which surround one in her high position, the present Queen of England must be considered a model woman as well as a grand monarch.

THE Prohibitionists mean well—most of them—and work hard, but their efforts to suppress the whisky traffic are clearly ineffectual. Internal Revenue Commissioner Mason estimates that the whisky production this year will be 120,000,000 gallons—about five gallons for every family in the United States, or more than two drinks a week for each man, woman and child. This is 5,000,000 gallons more than was ever before made in the United States.

THE Street Superintendent yesterday complained to the City Council about the manner in which the approaches to the Ninth-street bridge are being built. For about a year there were no approaches at all to this bridge, and now it appears that they are being built in an inefficient manner. Residents of the southern-central part of the city have a right to complain of the manner in which their interests are neglected by the municipal government.

THE appropriation bill for the Department of Agriculture for the year ending June next amounted to the considerable sum of $3,028,153. Of this amount $2,500 goes for investigation regarding the extension of foreign markets for agricultural products; $57,900 for entomology and vegetable pathology, and $31,000 for experimental grounds and gardens. The largest item—$889,758—is for the Weather Bureau, now for the first time under this department. This money is well spent.

An "agent of the Government" at Liverpool says there are 100 British paupers shipped from that port to the eastern-most section of the proposed trans-Siberian railway, which has already been completed for nearly eight hundred miles from Vladivostock. The railway is, so far, chiefly the product of convict labor and largely that of women convicts, who are pushed on to work by brutal severity on the part of the guards.

A letter from Tokio, Japan, giving the story of a prisoner recently escaped from Siberia, says that the women employed to dig and remove the earth on this line are already perishing by scores. They are selected for the work without any regard to previous manual experience, political prisoners, some of them women of refinement and delicate training, being driven by violence to the use of the pick and shovel. If they show weakness they are mercilessly whipped. Women arriving in Eastern Siberia in the convict gangs from Russia are entirely at the mercy of the guards, and those who refuse to submit to anything required of them are detailed to work on the railway. This generally means death in a short time.

It is likely that those matters will be carefully covered during the journey of the Czarevitch, although to make a pretense of official liberality a few specially-favored convicts will be permitted to present addresses and petitions for pardon. The Czarevitch will also go through the form of examining the official side of Siberian convict existence, which for several months past has been undergoing polish for his inspection. One reason for this is that he may be able to make a favorable report to his mother, who is said to be very much touched by the frequent stories of Siberian cruelty and suffering.

The persistent and brutal persecution of the Jews by the Russian government is something remarkable, and to Americans, incomprehensible. A gentleman of Berlin—Herr Wemendorf—who has just returned to that city from Moscow, says he saw a score of dead in the streets, mostly infants, who had perished of exposure in the removal of their homes or in being torn away from their mothers. Herr Wemendorf himself, although not a Jew, has a rather Hebrew visage, and was compelled to go to the police office and give an account of himself and his ancestry for several generations back. He succeeded in proving that he was not a Jew and was released.

THE LONDON FRUIT MARKET.

A correspondent refers to a statement often heard here, that good apples cannot be grown in this section. He was visiting recently near Los Angeles and found that his host had imported all his apple trees from England, saying that the American apple could not be compared with the English variety. Our correspondent shows that tens of thousands of barrels of apples are shipped from New York to London and Liverpool, where no apple commands so good a price as the American Newton pipin. Such apples as these are sold in London at from 4 to 12 cents apiece. In 1889 it was estimated that more than half the apples consumed in England came from New York. In England, which was formerly noted for its fine apples, the cultivation of the fruit is no longer a success.

Our correspondent sends us the following very interesting extract from a recent article of Howard Paul, formerly well known in the United States as an actor, but now a London correspondent of continental journals. It gives a good idea of the immense market which London furnishes for horticultural products from all parts of the world. The fact that English grapes are regularly shipped to New York will be news to most of our readers: It is an error to suppose that the apples, which are now sent to London from the continent, reach here via Mr. Levy (of S. Solomon & Co., the celebrated foucette of Covent Garden) tells me that French apples are shipped by steamer direct from Bordeaux, and those which are sent from Paris, from the departments of Loire and Charente-Inferieure are also sent by direct boats. Only the soft fruits, such as cherries, peaches and plums pass through Paris—being perishable they must travel speedily. Mr. Levy assures me that about 600,000 cases of fruit and vegetables are sold at Covent Garden yearly. The fruit trade, it seems, has had to struggle against difficulties for some years past; but since the new auction room was opened, the importation of foreign fruits has made immense progress. Those engaged in the fresh fruit trade must be men of energy to enable them to get through the immense amount of work that has to be done in a few days. Last year a few cases of Tasmanian apples were sent to New York. They had reached bad packed, and had bad results to all concerned, and yet showing germs of a good future if properly handled. What was done? Some of the leading fruit dealers, who instructed the growers how to pack, arranged with shipping companies as to means of transit, with the result that Friday last there was offered for auction one of the finest cargoes of Tasmanian fruit ever sent to America. The sale was a success, and owing to arrangements made with growers at the Grand Canary, Tenerife and Madeira, by large exporters like E. W. Fyfe, the demand for Tasmanian fruit has made immense progress. ## RELIGIOUS BODIES.

The Presbyterian General Assembly's Session.

Progress of Church Work Among the Freedmen of the South.

More Ministers Needed and More Money for Their Support.

The Baptist Missionary Union's Anniversary—Reports of the Past Year's Work in Foreign Fields.

By Telegraph to The Times.

Detroit, May 25.—[By the Associated Press.] At the morning session of the Presbyterian General Assembly discussion of the seal was taken up, but was soon dropped and continued as the order for this evening.

The standing Committee on Freedmen reported. Rev. Dr. Allen, secretary of the board, spoke of the encouraging way in which the colored people are coming to the front. The present generation of negroes, he said, will largely decide the character of the generations to come, which, for good or ill, will so greatly influence the future of the country. The only solution is Christian education for them.

The secretary reported over $176,000 given for support, during the last year, of 269 churches and 17 missions under control of the board. In these are 139 missionaries, mostly colored, and 15,488 communicants. The Sabbath school pupils number 18,212 in 259 schools. There are 84 day schools, which have an attendance of 11,029.

The standing committee on bringing together vacant churches and unemployed ministers reported certain recommendations designed to strengthen the "Episcopal power of presbyteries."

There was an animated discussion of these provisions. Dr. Lowry of Philadelphia opposed the fourth section as being a blacklist of ministers and churches that for any reason decline to come under the arrangement. The discussion, which was participated in by a number of others, showed diversity of opinion upon the subject, but the consensus of thought seemed to be that the matter be left to the presbyteries.

President Patton recommended that before final enactment that the matter be referred to a special committee to report to this assembly on the constitutionality of the plan, which he much doubted, but he offered to withdraw his motion till all sections were acted upon.

Leave to withdraw was, by vote, refused, and an adjournment cut off further debate.

The sole matter was taken up again, and after a confused debate was referred to the committee.

Dr. Eason read the report of the Board of Education. It says in part:

The year was begun with a debt of $8700. This compelled caution in the acceptance of candidates. The board hoped for a large increase in receipts, but instead closed the year with a small increase of $700. Since closing the accounts, however, $800 has come in. We are thus in this dilemma: Shall we take up fewer candidates or give less to each? Our embarrassment can only be removed apparently by greater zeal in our efforts to secure new converts. These are fifteen more vacant churches than last year, many of them strong ones, and it is every year harder to get suitable men for these. Then, too, the labors of Sabbath school teachers have been increased by the many new churches opened from the 1200 new schools planted this year will soon be needing pastors. Besides the need of educated colored ministers and men qualified to work among the immigrant population is sure to increase. What does the church do?

What of the supply? Only 212 graduated, twice more than last year. The inevitable deficit must be supplied from partly-trained men or from other denominations, and in either case there will be no the average less satisfied results than from men fully trained in their own seminaries.

Adjourned until tomorrow.

It is thought by observers that the tide of opinion is changing in favor of restoring Dr. Briggs's appointment or transfer to the Robinson professorship of biblical theology, without touching on the question of heresy, as that would prejudice the case before the New York presbytery.

THE BAPTISTS.

Seventy-seventh Anniversary of the Missionary Union.

CINCINNATI, May 25.—[By the Associated Press.] The seventy-seventh anniversary of the American Baptist Missionary Union was observed today. The president in his address made a strong appeal for more earnestness in sending the gospel to the pagan world.

The Committee on Centennial Celebration presented a series of resolutions providing, among other things, that the union observe the special celebration at Kettering, England, in October, 1892; that 100 more missionaries be sent out, and that $1,000,000 more be raised.

The report of the Committee on Progress, for the past year, showed $600,000 in the missionary fund.

The Committee on Obituaries made an elaborate report on the notable people deceased at home and abroad. Added.

After receiving a report on Bible work, recess was taken until 2:30 this afternoon.

At the afternoon session Dr. Bradford reported for the committee on the famous Taluga Mission. Nearly five thousand have been baptized, but the converts are widely scattered. More missionaries and $50,000 for this field are asked.

Rev. Dr. Mable, secretary of the union, spoke on his missionary tour around the world, from which he had just returned. The city of Tokio, he said, has 28,000 students. Japan is intellectually awake. China shows great commercial enterprise. Bombay is the most palatial railway station on the planet. Calcutta is an immense port of commerce. America is also in the condition of the world. Mighty forces thus are at work. The time has passed to merely pity or patronize the mighty nations of the East. The work in Japan, intellectually and religiously, is remarkable.

China, said the speaker, is the battle center. The medical missions are potent blessings. Christian hospitals multiply. There are Chinamen and Chinamen. We only see coolies in this country. The work in Burma was enlarged upon. Dr. Clough, missionary from Ongole, who has 22,000 disciples to look after in 550 villages, and Dr. Josiah N. Cushing of Burmah also spoke. A plea was made for more men to save at least the work already begun.

The Lutherans.

LEBANON (Pa.) May 25.—At today's session of the General Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran church, the board of church extension reported that all receipts for the two years were $80,000, an increase of $14,000. The number of lots held by the board for future churches is 230, valued at $44,800. Other real estate and mortgages with cash in treasury, bring up the assets to $213,619.

Reformed Presbyterians.

PHILADELPHIA, May 25.—After an animated discussion today the Reformed Presbyterian Church Assembly decided not to appoint a committee to confer with that appointed by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church last year to prepare a short creed containing the essential articles of the Westminster confession, etc., and to take the matter in consideration during the synodical year.

SAMANA, BAY.

The United States May Have a Naval Station There.

NEW YORK, May 25.—[By the Associated Press.] A Washington special says: The question of naval stations in the West Indies is being very seriously discussed by the Government. The failure of the negotiations for the mole St. Nicholas will probably result in an attempt to obtain the eastern side of the island from the government of San Domingo.

It is perhaps not generally known that Admiral Cherard left Port du Prince four weeks ago under cable orders to go direct to Samana Bay and examine into its fitness for a coal station, and that while there Gen. Heureaux, president of San Domingo, came from San Domingo City in his yacht and was welcomed with the admiration of several hours. There is no doubt the subject of conversation was the establishment of a naval station on Samana Bay, and that the price is the friendship and moral support of the United States in the present difficulty between San Domingo and Hayti.

It is too early to say that the United States would not receive the proposal favorably, but Tracy is very much in earnest, and the late action of the Haytian government has created a feeling far from friendly to Hayti. It is thought that as between two republics preference will be given to San Domingo.

It is thought by observers that the tide of opinion is changing in favor of restoring Dr. Briggs's appointment or transfer to the Robinson professorship of biblical theology, without touching on the question of heresy, as that would prejudice the case before the New York presbytery.

A Town in Flames.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—A telephone message from Martinez says that a large fire is raging in the town of Crockett. Flames can be seen from Martinez, and the whole town seems to be burning. It is impossible to get any communication with Crockett, as the telegraph office there is closed.

Killed His Wife's Betrayer.

HILLSBORO (N. M.) May 25.—James A. Hiler, proprietor of the Mountain Pride Hotel, shot and killed Dr. Mason, who, it is said, was too intimate with Hiler's wife. Great excitement prevailed and Hiler was in imminent danger of being lynched when the police arrived.

Plenty-of-Horses on Trial.

SIOUX FALLS (S. D.) May 25.—The second trial of Plenty-of-Horses, the Sioux warrior, for the murder of Lieut. Casey, began today before Judges Shiras and Edgerton. No testimony materially different from the first trial has been given so far.

Illegitimate Children May Inherit.

NEW YORK, May 25.—Judge Patterson of the State Supreme Court has just handed down an important decision, in which he holds that an illegitimate child can inherit its mother's property regardless of a will executed before its birth and admitted to probate.

Appointed.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—The President today appointed José Segura of Santa Fe, N. M., agent for the Indians at the Pueblo and Jicarilla agency in New Mexico.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

Secretary Blaine's health continues to improve.

The German Houck of Tennessee died Sunday from poison, having by mistake taken arsenic.

Potter White & Bayley, shoe manufacturers of Boston, have assigned. Liabilities are estimated at about $1,000,000.

At Harlan, Iowa, Mrs. Christian Henderson, a Danish woman, and her four children were found hanging in the cellar of their house. The husband was sent to the insane asylum about a week ago, and the finding of the bodies shows that the wife should have gone.

Angry Newfoundlanders.

ST. JOHNS (N. F.) May 25.—The Legislature passed the Local Coercion Bill Saturday night, with closed doors, amid great public indignation. The Governor's proclamation asking observance of the Queen's birthday is disregarded. All business places were opened last night. The bairys on the Colonial building were cut and an attempt was made to burn down the royal standard flagstaff on the Government house.

EPIDEMIC OF WIFE BEATING.

Four Complaints for Assaults on Women Issued Yesterday.

There appears to have been an epidemic of assaults upon women on Sunday last, no fewer than four complaints having been issued yesterday of this kind from the District Attorney's office.

Mrs. Annie Pitkin accused her husband, Charles F. Pitkin, of having beaten her, and thrown sticks at her on their return from a stroll on Sunday afternoon, because she refused through fear of him to enter the house.

Mrs. Stella McLaughlin followed suit and procured a complaint against her husband, charging him with having battered her, during a dinner party.

Mrs. Sarah G. Park obtained a complaint against Charles Madison, whom she accused of having committed the crime of battery upon her.

Robert Poto appeared before Justice Stiles yesterday for arraignment upon the charge of battery and disturbing the peace, preferred against him by Mrs. Honnou B. Marion, who accused him of having struck her on Sunday morning with a stick after she had picked him shamefully. The woman was given a fine of $100 in each case, to secure his appearance for trial on Friday afternoon next.

Stabbed Nine Times.

SEATTLE, May 25.—J. Leonard, a variety actor, was found in a room unconscious this morning with nine knife wounds in his body. He will probably die. His assailants are unknown.

Water That Flows Into the Earth.

There is an interesting instance of water flowing inland from the sea. It is found on the island of Cephalonia, in the Ionian sea, west of Greece. The phenomenon occurs on the southwest side of the island, near the small town and port of Argostoli. Two streams flow at a short distance from one, straight from the sea for a few yards, and then follow different courses. One turns at right angles and runs for some ways parallel with the shore and close to it. Then it turns again toward the sea, and running, of course, deeper and deeper, doubles completely under itself, thus forming a loop, and finally passes out of sight down in a landward direction.

In its course it turns two flour mills, which will give an idea of the strength of the current. There is no tide in the sea here, and the flow of the salt water brook is perfectly steady and continuous. The other stream disappears in the ground in a similar way.

This curious phenomenon has not attracted much attention because Argostoli is not on one of the regular tourist routes. No one knows what becomes of this water, but it probably flows to some subterranean reservoir, and it may have something to do with the earthquakes that occur in that neighborhood once in a long while, or possibly it feeds some distant volcano, for as is well known, the most generally accepted theory of the cause of volcanic eruptions is that they are due to steam generated from water admitted through cracks in the earth's crust or in some other way.

GOLDWATER'S MAGAZINE.

Respecting the reiterated statement from Paris to the effect that the insurgents have arranged to surrender the Itata to the United States naval authorities when she reaches Chile, officials of the Navy Department stand mute. It may be stated, however, that there have been no negotiations between this Government and the Chilean insurgents upon the subject.

Still it is plainly evident that some kind of an understanding has been, or is expected to be reached, which will result in the easy transfer of the Itata to the United States naval authorities when she reaches Chile, officials of the Navy Department stand mute. It may be stated, however, that there have been no negotiations between this Government and the Chilean insurgents upon the subject.

PASADENA.

Office No. 261-2 E. Colorado Street.

SHORB ENDORSED.

Pasadena Wants Him Chief at the World's Fair.

BOARD OF TRADE RESOLUTIONS.

Another Ananias Comes to Light—Mr. Foster's Friend from Boston—Chautauquaans Convene—Personals and Brevities.

A meeting of the Board of Trade was held yesterday afternoon. Judge O. F. Weed occupied the chair. The object of the meeting was the endorsement of Hon. J. de Barth Shorb for the chief of the horticultural and agricultural commission of the World's Fair, in the event of W. S. Maxwell's removal.

After some discussion the following motion, made by George F. Foster and W. U. Masters, was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, that the Pasadena Board of Trade recommends the appointment of Hon. J. de Barth Shorb as chief of the bureau of horticulture, viticulture and floriculture of the Columbian Exposition of 1893.

Secretary Rosister was instructed to forward a copy of the resolution to Hon. George R. Davis, Director-General of the World's Fair commission.

ANOTHER LIAR.

A Slap in the Face from a Recent Visitor.

C. T. Osmond, who signs himself "Judge T. Osmond," recently wrote a letter from Pasadena to a Zanesville, O., paper. Osmond was here in March last. He will be remembered as the man who was shot by a crazy passenger on a train while crossing the desert. His injuries were slight but they served to bring him into prominence, and during his stay here he was hospitably entertained by the Knights of Pythias, of which organization he is a member.

As a result came the letter. Hear some of the things the "Judge" was inspired to write: "The town (Pasadena) is staked, for seven miles, and many a tenderfoot planted his stuff in some of the lots. The streets have tony enough names if that would be the means of enticing emigration. Pasadena is not a poor man's town, as it is as quiet as any one would care to see. There is no manufacturing of any kind, and on many of the streets it appears as if the people have shut up shop and gone to a funeral. It seems that every one who had any property during the boom tried to make it the business center. For instance the Opera House stands alone far away from the business portion of town. If there is any White Collar for stroll I saw the signs of eleven doctors in one block. Dr. Cure-all, Dr. Rob-all, Dr. Kill-all and the Lord knows what all. Why, it looked as if the town was one hospital."

"There is enough empty storerooms for a city of 25,000 and I will be safe in saying they have not got 4,000 people."

"I have been here some days and from the general appearance of things, it will be quiet for many moons to come."

"There is enough empty storerooms for a city of 25,000 and I will be safe in saying they have not got 4,000 people."

"I have not even seen a dog fight, and if it were not for the Salvation re-enactors there would be no noise. Pasadena is a good resort for one-lunged people, and those who are afraid to smile. One wishes to get rid of spare coin and live a life of seclusion, right here is the identical spot."

Referring to the Raymond he says it "looks like some asylum," and is "the greatest tinder box he ever saw." Further on we have: "At one time this quiet burg had 137 real estate agents. Some few are left and have worn holes in their chairs waiting for the man with the boodle. Poor boom, it died so quick, and people scampered like ants on a hot stove." The classic epistle closes thus: "I will close for this time as a dog fight has taken place close by."

A man with such Ananias-like accomplishments ought to make a first-class politician.

A BOSTON ENTHUSIAST

Coming Here to Live and Invest Money.

"Would you like to know what a Boston man thinks of Pasadena?" inquired George F. Foster of THE TIMES reporter. The pen wielder stated that few things would afford him greater pleasure, whereupon Mr. Foster continued:

"The gentleman I refer to is J. H. Collamer, who left only a short time ago for home to attend to some important business, after having spent considerable time in Pasadena. He is over 70 years old and has been an extensive traveler. He has seen all that is worth seeing in Europe, and has spent considerable time in Southern France and Italy. When, therefore, he said to me one day, 'Of all the countries I have visited Southern California is the most desirable for a place of residence, and of all places in Southern California Pasadena is the best,' I felt that it was a big compliment to our town."

Mr. Collamer, however, proposes to do more than talk. Deeply impressed with the wonderful resources of this country, he is going to invest considerable money here and is coming to Pasadena to live. He has his eye on several desirable properties in and near Pasadena, and as he is a man of large means, he will buy the best. While in France, Mr. Collamer made a study of the processes of manufacturing essences and perfumery, and he says that superior advantages are offered in this region for carrying on these industries and supplying the market with as good goods at lower prices than the imported article comes."

"About July Mr. Collamer will return. In a recent letter he tells me he has talked California to his friends to such an extent that he hopes to be accompanied to Pasadena by quite a party of Bostonians, who will come with the idea of settling here. We want as many men like Mr. Collamer as we can get in Pasadena," said Mr. Foster, after departing, leaving the reporter to ponder over the indisputable truth of this statement.

There are some young thieves of the underworld in Pasadena. Yesterday morning a small boy, with a stick of a stick, reached through the wire screen in front of Schmidt's news stand and stole an office key that had been thrown inside to await the arrival of the proprietor. The police are on the lookout for the young rascal. If applied to the proper door, the key might prove of value.

CALICO AND DAGGETT.

Your correspondent recently paid a visit to Calico, where all is life, bustle and activity. One hundred and ten stamps are in constant operation, though the mines, or many of them, have been worked continuously for a number of years, the output of ore being as great to-day as at any previous time since the first workings. The ore are absolutely free milling; even ounce copper.

CAPTAIN E. H. VERNET, in charge of the property of the prisoner, who caused a profound sensation in Great Britain, Verney, who seemed to feel his position keenly when brought to the bar of justice, pleaded guilty of a conspiracy to procure, instead of actually procuring the girl. In pronouncing sentence the recorder said he had come to the conclusion that this was not the only prosecution case in which the captain had been implicated, and therefore he could not lean toward the side of mercy so much as he might have done had it been an isolated affair. Captain Verney served with distinction in the royal navy during the Crimean war. Besides being a member of the house of commons, he was deputy lieutenant and justice of the peace for Anglesey, and member of the London council for the Brixton division.

This entire mining region, second to none, can be made to pay tribute directly to Los Angeles, and will, more than ever, upon the completion of the Utah railroad—provided your people will go into the business of hunting and trapping coyotes during the next few months.

About July Mr. Collamer will return. In a recent letter he tells me he has talked California to his friends to such an extent that he hopes to be accompanied to Pasadena by quite a party of Bostonians, who will come with the idea of settling here. We want as many men like Mr. Collamer as we can get in Pasadena," said Mr. Foster, after departing, leaving the reporter to ponder over the indisputable truth of this statement.

As Mr. Johnston claims that Platt is entitled to the county for his services, while the board claims that it is entitled to every cent collected by Platt, an agreement appears a long way off.
